CORRECTION

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,643

Five indictments have been returned in the postal investigations, the charge being conspiracy to defraud the government. The penalty in case of conviction is a fine of $10,000 or two years in prison. It does not appear to be the intention of the administration to let anyone escape, and no small part of the credit for the efficient work in ferreting out the scandals is due Charles H. Robb, so recently of Vermont.

The mayor of Quincy, Mass., has been on a strike. He refused to renew a contract for street lighting with the only electric company in the city unless there was a reduction in price. The city council backed him up, and the streets of Quincy have been in darkness since June 1. But the mayor won with a six per cent reduction in price, lights on more nights in the year and better service in other ways.

The immigration statistics for the year ending June 30, 1903, promise to exceed all previous records by 100,000. The arrivals of immigrants in May of the present year were 137,514, which is an increase of 30,513 over the corresponding month last year, and makes the total for the eleven months of the present year 758,286. The influx of aliens from Italy, including Sicily and Sardinia, continues to be greater than from any other country, the number for the month being 57,738. Austria-Hungary contributed the next largest number, sending 32,709 of her population. The German empire lost 6,440 of her citizens, which was an increase of over 2,000 over the corresponding month last year. From the Russian Empire and Finland 17,897 came, which was an increase of 3,649 over the corresponding month last year. Swedes to the number of 9,068 arrived, being an increase of nearly 4,000 over May of last year. Nearly 9,000 Irishmen came to the United States, which was an increase of 1,640 over the same month last year. England more than doubled her contribution of citizens this year over May of last year, sending 4,520, an increase of 3,020, while Scotland contributed more than four times as many as last year, sending 1,167, an increase of 944. The contribution of Italians is more than equal to the combined contributions of the German Empire, Ireland, England, Scotland and of Sweden, countries always considered heavy contributors to our population.

Danger in the Toothbrush.
The use of the toothbrush is almost universal, although other methods of cleaning the teeth have been suggested by dentists. The bristles have certain disadvantages. Any bristle detached from the brush may do harm. It may get into the larynx or even into the vermiform appendix.

Saving Up For the Fourth.
The Fourth is near; the small boy hoards his nickels and his dimes.
To buy gunpowder, bombs and things
And dreams of glorious times.
His anxious ma is saving, too,
And hoards up pounds and pounds
Of bandages and lint and salve
To bind up Jimmy's wounds.
And papa, though he grows red hot
And comes with a will,
Is saving up a sum each day
To pay the doctor's bill.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The marriage of Miss Maud L. Emerson and Clarke C. Fitts of Brattleboro, is announced to take place June 30.

The G. A. Gaines shirt factory at Isl and Pond was burned Saturday and is a total loss. Two hundred or more hands are deprived of employment.

M. L. Waterman has returned to his home in Waterbury from Boston, where he has been in search of his son, F. M. Waterman, who disappeared from Waterbury so mysteriously a few weeks ago. He could find no clue to his whereabouts.

Mrs. A. C. Hamel of Morrisville, recently secured from her henry two eggs of extreme sizes, on successive days. The larger measured 8x1 1/4 inches and the smaller 2x2 1/2 inches, the latter being about the size of a ground bird's egg.

P. G. Bemis of Marshfield, is the possessor of a three dollar note of the old Continental currency of 1775. The note was issued by the United Colonies and purported to be good for three Spanish milled dollars or the value thereof in gold or silver according to resolutions passed in Philadelphia May 10. The back bears the imprint of Hall and Sellers, 1775, and is numbered 4,434. The note descended to Mr. Bemis from his great grandfather and is highly prized by him.

J. H. Senter, president of the Vermont Bar association, believes the annual summer meeting of the association will be held during the first week in August at Newport. He has received 200 replies to the letter sent out, and out of that number only two were opposed to the meeting. Mr. Senter has also received a letter from John Young of Newport acquiescing in the idea of having the meeting the first week in August.

SIRENS AND SONS.

After nearly half a century of hard work on the stage the late Stuart Robinson left an estate valued at only $35,000.

H. E. Huntington, the multimillionaire, is building a palatial private car which will be exhibited at the world's fair, St. Louis.

General M. W. Ransom, a former United States senator from North Carolina, is devoting his time to farming and this year will run about 250 plows.

William Mackabee, the oldest living veteran of the American navy, will celebrate his one hundredth birthday next September at the Naval home in Philadelphia.

Page Morris, who goes to the federal bench in July, was born in Virginia, became an adopted son of Texas later and has represented Minnesota in congress for the last six years.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser is a multimillionaire whose name will be new to most eastern ears. He is credited with a fortune of $10,000,000, which has come out of lumber. Mr. Weyerhaeuser lives in Minneapolis.

Judge Simon E. Baldwin of the Connecticut supreme court has just sent in a liberal subscription to the fund which will provide for the erection of Yale's old "south middle" as a museum of Connecticut's history.

Mayor Robert A. Smith of St. Paul has celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in the saintly city. He has been three times chosen chief executive of the city and it is said will again be a candidate.

Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court, who has just passed his seventieth birthday, is a giant in stature and strength. He stands an inch and a fraction over six feet and has a deep, church organ voice.

Lord Kelvin, who has come before the public again in connection with some scientific discussions in London, has been called "the greatest all round man of science living." He took his college degree in his early teens, and, although he is now nearly eighty years old, he is recognized by scientists to be in his intellectual prime.

Two Crops of Apples This Year.
A farmer in Jacksonville, Pa., reports that he owns an apple tree which bloomed this spring and bore ripe apples the size of walnuts. The tree is now blooming again on the stems of this year's growth, and already it has numbers of tiny apples the size of wild cherries.

JUNGLES AND JESTS.

Hope Renewed.
I still have hope, though long ago
She scorned my heart and hand
And to another gave her own.
He riches had and spreading land.

I love her still! I still have hope!
To me she never seemed so dear.
For she's as fair as then—and rich,
And 's been a widow now a year!

Daughter—Didn't you tell me to encourage him all I could?—Baltimore American.

Net Profit.
"Good morning, Speckleboy. How is business?"
"Oh, it's all loss; no profit nowadays. Why, only yesterday wifey's mother got tangled up in a net."
"Well, that's net profit, isn't it?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

The members of Henry W. Savage's English Grand Opera company have ended their season.

George Tyler of Liebler & Co. is now in London to see Mrs. Humphry Ward about the new play she has written for Eleanor Robson.

The latest bit of news in the vaudeville world is an alleged offer to the Princess Louise of Saxony to sing in this country for one year—compensation $100,000.

The Earl of Kintore, a lord in waiting to King Edward, will, so declares Vera de Nole, become a theatrical manager and star her next season in her own melodrama.

Wallace Muero announces that he will present the coming season Miss Marie Montagu in her new play, "Sweet Jasmine," taken from Bulwer-Lytton's "Aux Italiens."

Harry Woodruff, who has been playing with Mrs. Fiske in "Mary of Magdala," has been engaged to play the title part of "Ben-Hur" at the New York theater in September.

An important change in the cast of Liebler & Co.'s production of "Romeo and Juliet" was made recently, when James O'Neill was substituted for Eben Plympton as Mercutio.

Herbert Titheridge, an English actor, who was leading man for Mrs. Patrick Campbell, has been engaged by Charles B. Dillingham for Henry Miller's company in his Pacific coast tour.

Broadhurst & Currie have purchased "Buster Brown," the musical farce comedy written by R. F. Outcault, who created the mischievous youngster in the comic section of a New York Sunday newspaper.

Trolley Car Mirrors.
All the trolley car vestibules of Denver are to be fitted with mirrors as fast as they can be placed upon the cars, says an exchange. The mirrors, which are of heavy plate glass inclosed in solid cast iron frames, are hung out at one side of the vestibule at such an angle that without turning his head the motorman can see exactly the condition of affairs on the steps. He can thus watch the rear platform, and there will be less danger of the car being accidentally started again while a passenger is getting on or off.

Types of Mind.
There is a feminine and masculine type of mind. The former depends chiefly on memory and is reproductive. The latter relies on reasoning and is creative. The mind of the man of science is masculine, that of the clergyman feminine. Not every woman possesses a feminine mind, though many men have little else.

DREDGING MANILA HARBOR.

Interesting Relics Fished Up by a Big Dredger.

The great hydraulic dredger now at work filling the section of the harbor at Manila that is to be reclaimed has, since it began operations, brought some queer objects to the surface, but nothing more interesting or valuable than an old quadrant brought up a few days ago, says the Manila Times. The old nautical instrument bore the date of 1003 and was in a perfect state of preservation. It was made of gun metal, and was evidently lost by one of the ancient galleons some time in the seventeenth century. It was turned over to Engineer Pope, who had it cleaned and who counts it a great treasure.

Before the big dredger was started a receptacle for any heavy objects taken up by the pumps was fitted up, and some very interesting articles have been dropped into it and saved by the workmen. Many old shells and cannon balls have been found and a number of old ship's fittings have also been raised. The dredger is working in the neighborhood of an old anchorage, and it is expected that during the progress of the extensive harbor work many things of interest and possibly of value will be brought to the surface.

New Slang Word.

It is reported by the Greeley Republican that loco weed is unusually abundant on the prairies this year. Loco weed is a plant which sets animals crazy and eventually causes their death if its use is continued, says the Kansas City Journal. But the peculiar thing about it is the manner in which it upsets the popular idea that animals have an unerring instinct which teaches them to avoid all foods which are harmful. When a horse or cow has once tasted loco it will wander over the prairies hunting for more of it and refusing to eat grass or any other food. When an animal has acquired the loco habit it quickly becomes emaciated, and often it runs amuck like a man made crazy by the use of morphine or whisky. On the prairie the word "locoed" is applied to men who are intoxicated or who have lost their minds, and it has moved on to the east, where it is doubtful if many know its origin.

A Test With Each Drink.

Quoting Scriptures by the chapter, stinging puns and exhorting his patrons to walk in the straight and narrow path from early morning till late at night keep Charles Booth, a saloon keeper of Atlanta, and his bartender busy, says a special dispatch from Tipton, Ind., to the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Booth, who is a wealthy man in the tin plate mill, has become much excited over the determined fight of the temperance element to drive out all saloons in the town. He stands behind his bar and quotes some verse in the Bible applicable to every patron who enters his place. The Anti-Saloon league of the state has concentrated its forces in Tipton county, and the members say they will close every saloon in the county in a few months.

HORSE MARKS.

A white eye is a glass eye.
A white stripe in the face is a blaze.
A white spot in the forehead is a star.
A stripe between the nostrils is a snip.
A face white from eye to eye is a bald face.
White around the top of the hoof makes a white coronet.
White below the pastern joint is a white pastern; above the pastern a white leg.—St. Louis Republic.

The Honeycomb.

The smallest apartment houses are those occupied by bees. In a cubic foot of honeycomb there are about 9,000 cells.
